New cages & better living areas for the orangutans & wildlife at the rehabilitation centre in Yogjakarta

The wildlife rehabilitation centre has been short of cages since the birth of a baby orangutan, Mungil, last May in 2013. Her father, Joko, had to be removed from the enclosure as a measure to protect the baby. It has taken nearly a year to raise the funds and complete this new enclosure which is large enough to hold two orangutans. Having the new cages is a big moment for the centre as the orangutans are able to live more comfortable. Read more about what's happening at the wildlife centre here.
Rachel's Jungle Adventure with the Orang Asli Jungle Tribe

Rachel's volunteered in the Rainforest Conservation Volunteer program in Malaysia and had enjoy her stay very much. It was her first time being in the rainforest and she was amazed with the rainforest beauty and wonders. Meeting the Orang Asli tribe was also a great experience as it gave her the chance to understand the rainforest and the people living with it. Read more about Rachel's adventure here

The importance of having the right travel insurance plan while volunteering

If you are thinking of taking some time out to volunteer abroad, while it's great you will be helping others, you will need to look after yourself first with the right kind of travel insurance. You need to know what type of activities you will be participating and find out the risk involved to find for the right travel insurance plan. Read more about volunteer insurance here
Primates, Monkeys & Orangutan Volunteer Projects

Primate Rehabilitation, Education, Research and Conservation Centre Nigeria

Primate Rescue Centre South Africa

Rehabilitate Orangutans in Borneo

Black Howler Monkey Centre in Argentina

Borneo Orangutan & Pygmy Elephant Conservation Malaysia

Orangutan and Wildlife Rescue Centre Indonesia

Monkey Rescue Project England

Volunteering with Rescued Chimps in Spain

You're receiving this because you subscribed to the Ecoteer monthly newsletter.

Edit your subscription | Unsubscribe instantly